A Curiosity of Literature

HALPINE'S "PRISON LIFE OF DAVIS"—TRUTH STRANGER THAN FICTION.

[From the [illegible] Mercury, Oct. [illegible]]

It is asserted that the book entitled "Prison Life of Jefferson Davis," and purporting to be the work of Dr. Craven, was written in nine days by the late General C. G. Halpine.

The above paragraph is going the rounds of the press as an item of strange news.

The book, our readers will remember, came out in New York soon after the release of Mr. Davis on bail from his imprisonment at Fortress Monroe. It was the sensation of the day, and excited deep interest for the famous prisoner whose story of life it assumed to give. While it stirred the hearts of the Southern people, of whom he was, because he was the official head, it awakened the curiosity, removed the prejudices, and enlisted the sympathies of Northern men on behalf of one fallen from high estate, a weary, feeble captive, who yet challenged admiration for the equanimity of his bearing and the accomplishments of his mind.

Our readers will be astonished to learn that the statement is true, and that this popular book, over which so much of feeling, of indignation, pity, interest, and admiration has been created and expended, is a work of imagination—a novel woven upon slender threads of facts.

Soon after the admission of Mr. Davis to bail, Craven, the surgeon of the post, went to New York, where he met his quondam messmate of the same staff, General Halpine. This literary friend congratulated him forthwith on the opportunity he had to immortalize himself in print, and at the same time make money by a book on Jeff Davis. The idea seemed new to Mr. Craven, and he said it was impracticable. Halpine asked him where were his notes? He replied he had none, and could not do it. "Then," said Halpine, "give me whatever material you have and I will write in your name, and we will share the profits." This was agreed to.

Craven furnished three letters of Mrs. Davis to him and some notes written on the margin of a Herald by Mr. Davis, touching the points he desired Reverdy Johnson to make in defending him for treason. This was all the authentic matter supplied.

At the request of General Halpine, Craven also made out a list of the officers of the post and their days for going on duty, and other little details of the post and garrison and of Mr. Davis.

Halpine then called to see several Confederates in New York, and among others, Gen. Dick Taylor. He pumped them as to Mr. Davis' his views and opinions on public matters, also in regard to leading Southern men, and Mr. Davis' relations and feelings toward them.

A Philadelphia publishing house now advertised that it was soon to put forth a life of Davis, and Halpine saw the importance of anticipating this publication by his book. It was arranged in New York to get it out immediately. He agreed to furnish his publisher forty pages of foolscap manuscript daily. And he sat down to write—and wrote forty pages daily for nine days, when the book was completed—the web of his fertile brain and accomplished mind.

The book was of great service to Mr. Davis, and General Halpine's share of the profits was $7,000 last March, when he communicated to us the above facts from his own graphic and eloquent lips.

This is one of the curiosities of literature, and illustrates the talents of the man who could so plausibly manufacture out of whole cloth the "Prison Life of Jefferson Davis," with his private views and opinions concerning men and things.

FROM THE PLAINS.—The Frontier Index, which has followed in the track of the Union Pacific Railroad, has arrived at Bear River, Wyoming Territory. It says in its issue of Oct. 30th:

In our issue on the 13th instant we called for three heavy wagons, quick. We got them, loaded, and in three days headed the emigration to Bear River City. Personally, we took the cars 14 miles to Bryan, alias Bilkville, alias Bill Martin's pine, cotton and abode shed, that will be crushed in by the weight of the first respectable mountain snow that may fall upon it, provided the roof is completed for the occasion, which we doubt exceedingly, as his carpenters have joined in the stampede that they, like "the wise men of the East," watch and are guided by "the star."

In traveling from Granger's to Byrne's we leave the railroad some fifteen miles to the north of us, while in ascending Quaking Asp mountain from Byrne's the railroad has several miles to our left, it following Muddy Fork. Three miles up the side of the mountain we passed a ranch at some soda springs, and ten miles further, over forbidding hills covered with scrubby cedars, brought us to Quaking Asp Station, on the western slope, inside of the Great Basin. That night the whole country was alive with Reynolds & Dowling's men, who were engaged in grading the big cut in Quaking Asp Hill. There was lots of fun there all night, with sugar in it. We were now on the head of Sulphur creek, that flows into Bear river, and it into Great Salt Lake. Next morning a drive of ten miles down this creek brought us to Bear River City. And here we are red hot, and still heating hotter than Farenheit's thermometer is graded to indicate the intensity of.

Saturday night last the cry of "Murder, murder!" was heard on the creek separating [illegible] Hill from Spring Hill, and it was soon ascertained that an unfortunate individual had been suddenly relieved of his blankets. The next day a six and a half footer went to the house of Ebenezer Landers, on Spring Hill, threw a bundle of bedding in at the door and asked that it be left until dark. This was refused, though room was made for it in the milk house. After dark three men went up and claimed the bedding, and when the six and a half footer returned Lander collared and seated him, then turned to call for assistance, when the thief made a spring through the doorway and skedaddled. That character is now spotted, and had better find his bed and board in some other locality.

Last Friday night somebody went crazy from the effects of bad whisky and opened a promiscuous fire from a pistol in the Southern Restaurant on Uintah street. It was not ascertained what individual fired all the shots, but Mike Ryan, Tom Tunsell, Tom Taylor and John Harrigan were all severely shot in the legs. They are, however, all steadily improving.

THE CHINESE REBELLION.—"Carleton" writes to the Boston Journal from China:

Upon every hand, not only here in Nanking, but every mile along the river, are ruins. Residents here say that the destruction of life may be estimated at twenty-five millions. The struggle commenced in the southwest province of Yunan, on the borders of Burmah. It spread to Canton—it rolled down the valley of the Yang-tse to Shanghai, and down the Yellow river to Peking. Every one of the great cities of the interior fell into the hands of the rebels. They took possession of town and country. It was a struggle in which no quarter was shown by either party. Heads of prisoners were chopped off without compunction, that vengeance might overtake them in the future world. The rebels consumed all that came in their way. Desolation marked their progress. Disease and famine followed them. It was a struggle which lasted nearly twenty years. We look out from the deck of the steamer upon heaps of ruins which mark the site of towns once populous. Captain Friend, of the steamer, saw the last victorious attack of the Imperial troops upon the rebels at this city—the cutting off of heads on the shore, the sinking of thousands of rebels in the river as they attempted to escape. There was no mercy, no compassion, no humanity. The Imperial troops were animated by one desire only—to kill—and that had been the policy of the rebels. It was a terrible harvest which was reaped on these meadows during these years.

The resuscitation of the San Francisco Herald, under the editorial management of John Nugent, was recently announced as one of the probable results of the then pending election. The logic of intervening events has induced a postponement of said resurrection, probably until 1872 or thereafter.

Instead of sending wool East for our factories, the West consumes more than it produces, in its own mills. There are over 500 woolen mills in the seven States of Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota.

PUGET SOUND.

From the Olympia Transcript.

A little son of Mr. [illegible], aged two years and ten months, was drowned in the bay at Tumwater on Monday last. The family live near by, and the children have been [illegible] playing on the beach. It is not known how he fell in, or how long he remained in the water, as no one saw him. His clothing having been [illegible] saw [illegible] He was [illegible] all efforts to restore [illegible] failing.

We learn that about the beginning of next new year the new wharf at Mukilteo will be completed. It is represented to be the finest piece of work of the kind in this northern section.

The Bellingham Bay mine is turning out coal at the rate of [illegible] per day [illegible] that the [illegible]

Capt. Hugh McKay died at Port Townsend on the 5th inst., of small pox, aged thirty-seven years.

We understand the steamer which is being built at Port Discovery is to be [illegible] and length[ened].

There are two ships, one brig, two schooners and two steamboats now on the stocks between this and Seattle.

Mr. Swan, who returned by the Anderson from Victoria, informs us that the merchants of that place have petitioned the Home Government to establish a British Consul at Port Townsend.

A Democratic friend informs us that it is proposed to start a new paper of his faith in Olympia. He says that no Republican Johnson Democratic set on the fence can edit a good simon pure Democratic paper. [illegible] suppose the new organ will be one of the Brick Pomeroy style.

Several large and valuable deposites of lime stone suitable for building purposes have been discovered a few miles from Olympia, of the finest quality. When in its natural state it is quite soft and can be easily formed into any shape desired, but when exposed to heat becomes hardened and will polish like a piece of marble.

Another coal vein has been discovered on the Skookum Chuck, the largest yet found in that vicinity, being a stratum of some ten feet in thickness. That region no doubt has one of the finest coal formations on the Pacific slope.

Mr. A. H. Simmons, United States Deputy Surveyor, arrived from Rockland, Klickatat county, on Tuesday evening. He has been employed in government surveys on the Upper Columbia during the past summer. He informs us that the road from the Dalles to the Yakima country is in a fair way of being opened in the spring, a considerable sum having been subscribed for that purpose. Settlers are going into the Yakima valleys very fast, most of them having families.

In passing over the stage road from Olympia to Monticello the other day our attention was called to that part of the road known as the Cowlitz Mountain, which is such a mountain of obstruction to travel in the winter. Mr. J. A. Davis, stage proprietor, has been at considerable expense in putting the road in condition to run the stage from Pumphrey's to Monticello during the winter, instead of using saddle horses as heretofore. It is believed by running stages the connections at each terminus will be more sure of being made, and that it will be much easier for the traveling public than trusting to canoes and saddle horses to get up and down the Cowlitz. Mr. Davis informs us that he entertains no doubt of being able to make regular time all winter.

Southern Passes of the Cascades.

The citizens of Ashland, Jackson county, recently organized an expedition to go into the Cascade mountains and examine routes and altitudes with a view of making a report on the practicability of crossing the mountains with a railroad. We publish the report from the Sentinel:

Altitudes being one of the objects of the expedition, we obtained of Judge Tolman, en route for the field of exploration, the height of the Toll Road Pass, and also that of the Mountain House at the foot of the mountain, taken, perhaps, from the surveys of Lieut. Williamson in 1855 or 1856. The elevation of the former we found to be 4,880 feet, and that of the latter 2,231 feet.

Having determined in our own minds, through the representation of numerous individuals, that the Emigrant Road Pass was the Pass, we determined first to make its ascent, establish its elevation and explore its approaches. Its elevation we found by leveling to be about the same, perhaps a little higher, as the Toll Road Pass, while the approaches were rugged and uninviting, though we think not by any means insurmountable. It was now the opinion of Judge Tolman, who had accompanied us thus far, as also that of ourselves, that the Dead Indian Passes were more practicable, and thither we directed our steps, concluding as we did so that the better plan was to survey the route as we went. So taking Shepherd's place, at the lower crossing of Emigrant Creek, on the Emigrant road, and two miles below the Soda Springs, which is about the same elevation as the Mountain House (2,231 feet), as the initial or starting point, we ran up Emigrant Creek to its forks, in a southeasterly direction. Then turning in a northeasterly direction we continued the survey around the west side of the mountain, overlooking nearly all of the Bear creek and Rogue river valleys, to Grubb's Dead Indian Pass, a distance of twenty-five miles and an elevation of 4,600 feet, grade 94.76 feet to the mile. Then continuing in a north-northwesterly direction we reach Condry's Pass, at a distance of thirty miles from starting point, at an elevation of 4,500 feet, grade to the mile 75.19 feet. Of the route surveyed we would represent that though for the most part a steep side hill, it is nevertheless generally smooth and presents but little obstructions to the spade, except in the timbered portions, which comprise perhaps about one-fourth of the distance. In regard to curvature we would represent that it is almost wholly composed of curves, the shortest of which, however, need not have a radius of less than five or six hundred feet. In regard to timber for ties and trussel work and stone for masonry, there will be found to be plenty for all such purposes. Better still, in Grubb's Pass, by the construction of a tunnel a half a mile in length through a white chalky substance easily cut with a knife, the elevation may be reduced three to four hundred feet. It is our opinion that this is the best route to be found for the exit of a railroad from this valley. Other persons, however, whose opinions are entitled to respect, think differently, and we shall be but too happy if they shall succeed in finding anything more inviting to the enterprising railroad builders. In making this survey, after entering what is called the [illegible] Walker's [illegible] the south east [illegible] a depression through the crest or rim of the cove [illegible] toward the Emigrant Pass, and through which the road could doubtless be easily engineered to the valley [illegible] and Mr. [illegible] informs us that just beyond this pass, through the cove crest, near the head of what is called Sampson creek, there is another pass through the mountain that is much lower than any [illegible]. If that be true [illegible] While Mr. Culver contends that [illegible] south of the Emigrant Pass is a lower one than any yet examined [illegible]. While we have two that we know are eminently practicable [illegible] has favored us with a goodly number of passes from which to choose. But besides all these there is still another one [illegible] Bear creek people [illegible] share of merit. It is claimed by some that by following up one of the Butte Creek tributaries, Antelope for instance, the summit of the Dead Indian country can be reached without ascending so high by several hundred feet as on any of the other routes. We hope this is true [illegible] advantages [illegible] It [illegible] only to attract attention, but to command it, and we hope the people of that country will lose no time in making the survey and report upon the route.

A profile of the route surveyed will be made out in due time.

RECAPITULATION.

Elevation of Emigrant Creek Pass, 5,590 feet; Grubb's Dead Indian Pass, 4,600 feet; Condrey's Dead Indian Pass, 4,500 feet; Shepherd's Emigrant Pass, 2,231 feet; distance from Shepherd's to Grubb's Pass, 25 miles, grade 94.76 feet to the mile; distance from Shepherd's to Condry's Pass, 30 miles, grade 75.19 feet to the mile.

On the Columbia

[Editorial Correspondence Olympia Transcript.]

Taking the stage, a few mornings ago, we journeyed south, and in due course of time reached Monticello, without any alarming event transpiring more than usually happens to the general traveler in that day and a half's ride, passing through the valley of mounds, that curious and strange freak of the earth's surface, which human speculation may guess at but never account for; by fine farms and beautiful homes, wild and enchanting scenery, tall forests and rugged hills, with now and then a glance of the beautiful valleys through the openings, and the glistening waters winding in the distance. Through this portion of our territory are scattered a few settlers, but a large amount of good land is yet awaiting the hand of the industrious husbandman to subdue and cultivate. Particularly in Lewis county is this the case, where the great distance from a market is an objection to the settlement of the country, making the great want of it an easy and quick means of conveyance and communication. This want is good roads—wagon and railroads—when settlers will soon fill the country and its prospects will brighten.

Along the Cowlitz river, the people appear to not be discouraged at the unlucky turn of fortune's wheel which nearly ruined them last winter, but are striving to retrieve a portion of the wreck by building up their homes, and providing against the future. At Monticello, the improvements are gradually advancing, with good signs of permanency.

From thence, we took the steamboat, puffing along the channel where rolls the mighty Oregon, passing by many points of interest, among which is the prospering little town of St. Helens, on the south side. Once the rival town of Portland, it was supposed it would soon be the metropolis of the Wallamet and the Columbia valleys, so speculation ran high for a time. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company endeavored to build it up, ordering their ships to stop there, and began the erection of wharves. But the enterprise failed, and the town went down to almost a deserted village, until the surrounding region began to be developed, when it again began to assume a permanent progress.

Following the Columbia to the mouth of the Wallamet, we were soon winding our way up that noble river to the city which is the pride of all the Webfeet—Portland-on-Wallamet—passing over the celebrated Swan Island bar, observing the steady work of the dredger as it clears the bottom of the river about as effectually as it does the pockets of the Portland people to keep it in motion. We have no respect for machinery of that kind, and for the simple reason that the grand old waters of Puget Sound need none.

Well may the Oregonians be proud of Portland. It is a fine little city, well built, with broad streets, crossing each other at right angles, having grown very rapidly in the last few years. We remember a few years ago when the principal streets were almost impassible, but are now well paved and are fine thoroughfares. The town, as we called it then, was a collection of wooden buildings, unseemly and unsafe; now it contains many fine brick and iron structures, as fine as any on the coast. Its population was then a few hundred, but is now in the neighborhood of 10,000. Then it was but a little town in the forest, it carries all the airs of a city, and the forest gone. Corner lots that were worth but a few hundred dollars then, are now sold for many thousands. We know one poor little fellow who took some lots on a debt of three hundred dollars, but not being able to realize that amount from them, was forced to keep them, and has been so poor that he has never sold them yet. He values them now at seven thousand dollars. Being the great market town of Oregon, its business is immense, increasing and no doubt permanent. Not that it will be a great commercial city, but the center of Oregon's trade. We should add, its people appear energetic and orderly, that it has its full share of churches, schools, and societies, and not least, though last, a sufficiency of printing offices and printers' devils.

Down the Wallamet and up the Columbia to Vancouver was but a few hours of steamboat ride. This place too we found greatly enlarged. The old buildings of the Hudson's Bay Company are gone, the military grounds were extended with many improvements, and the town greatly improved. Situated on the north bank of the Columbia, it is as beautiful a town site as can be desired or often seen. It looks as if it ought to grow larger after awhile, with the fine lands of Clarke county surrounding it, and if it does and is situated at the south end of the railroad, we shall not be jealous of it.

PAYING HIS TITHING.—The Salt Lake Reporter is responsible for the following:

While in conversation a few days ago with an old apostate, who was disfellowshipped a few years ago for not paying tithe, we asked him what he thought of that system, to which, elevating the eyebrow and leaning his head thoughtfully to one side, he thus replied in brief: "You see I was always very particular about payin' up for a long time arter I got here. Finally it came a fall when I had 10 very fine hogs. Well, to do the square thing I drove one of them up to the tithing yard and butchered the rest and set in to cuttin' 'em up. Well, sir, about the time I got it done here come one o' Brigham's clerks and took one tenth of the hams, one-tenth of the shoulders, one tenth of the lard, and so on clear through. Soon after here come the Bishop and insisted on a donation for such a purpose, and not long after somebody for something else, and sir, when I got through I found I had the meat o' just one hog left. Well, I went up to see the President about it, and what do you think he said? 'Just go home and ask the Lord about it and see if I [illegible] tell you, Brother Brigham's mathematics [illegible] right, that you've only give the Lord his share.' Well, I went home and [illegible] much, but I thought the Lord was [illegible] of pork."

Post Mortem Agonies of the Rump

C[illegible] well with another [illegible] sitter as a [illegible] ure with [illegible] of this [illegible] Repub[illegible] talk ex[illegible] of the State This last letter is a rejoinder to an article of ours which was published some days ago and the principal object of which was to assert the doctrine that the Secretary of State cannot, in the absence of appropriations constitutionally draw warrants upon the treasury Though the letter is the fruit of a week of meditation and labor it presents no new points and its author seems to have wrought it out with a purpose similar to that which Pope ascribed to Phillips [illegible]

Just w[illegible] make [illegible] appear

It is to be observed that to some minds every thing is unconstitutional which does not precisely suit the wishes, policy and purposes of the Democratic party The repudiated and condemned members of the Legislature want the financial affairs of the State to fall into still greater confusion than now, and in consequence they take this position that the Secretary cannot lawfully draw warrants But ever since the State government went into operation warrants have been drawn continually to meet expenses authorized by law, whether there were any appropriations on hand or not and this same policy will be pursued in future This fine spun theory of the Rump, of which Chapman is champion and which is invented for a particular purpose and occasion will never be heard or thought of after this occasion passes by

The Democratic idea of constitutional powers is very peculiar, though it has not been the accepted idea in this country for almost ten years Col Chapman and his party once held that the President of the United States could not constitutionally call out troops to suppress rebellion and they could frame arguments to establish this position, which were quite as convincing as their present efforts to expound the Constitution of Oregon But the President did call out troops and did suppress the rebellion So the Secretaries of State of Oregon have always issued warrants to meet lawful expenses and will continue to issue them We do not employ this illustration on account of any necessary connection between its different parts but merely to call attention to the fact that Democrats, when they have a political purpose in view are not very reliable expounders of constitutions

The trouble with Col Chapman seems to be that he went into the Legislature with an idea of feathering his nest in some way or other, and completely failed. It would have been so excellent a thing to have had that Bureau of Statistics and Immigration created and Col Chapman appointed its chief with the privilege of going East at the expense of the State and a heavy salary to boot. There were also other schemes which the Colonel was watching with paternal solicitude, and which were thwarted by the serio-comic demise of the Legislature These failures and and disappointments are what inspired that roaring, ranting, raging speech in the presence of the Rump after the Republican members had withdrawn Old age like childhood, is rarely able to bear up against disappointments

The Colonel is also in distress because the services of the OREGONIAN have been engaged in the defense of its party friends This charge is in a measure true but the OREGONIAN stands by its political friends on a different principle from that which made Colonel Chapman a Democrat The OREGONIAN has never been a political renegade for the sake of office or patronage For instance, its principles were never bought by the appointment of any one connected with it to the office of Surveyor General The party of the OREGONIAN is the party of the American people, but if that party or any portion of it attempts to subvert our Constitution and Government, the OREGONIAN will not engage in their defense as Col. Chapman did in defense of a portion of his party when it plunged into secession and rebellion.

We have just one more suggestion to make which will perhaps apply to more than one of the members who misrepresented Multnomah county during the late session We would advise men whose own paper during their long residence in Oregon has notoriously never been worth fifty cents on the dollar, to fling away their ambition to manage the finances of the State Some of these noisy individuals can doubtless see the application of this remark, or if they are unable to see it they may assure themselves that the public generally can understand it

THEIR CROOKED COURSE —After the October elections the New York World said: "It is astonishing that anybody should have believed that the Democratic party meant to disperse the Southern legislatures by the Federal army, but it is not at all surprising that those who did so believe should vote against us" Just before the October elections the World said "Down with reconstruction The white men of the North did not fight to be ruled by the negroes of the South" No doubt it is now clear to the World that honesty would have served its party a better turn in the campaign than the crooked course it pursued

RETURNING PRODIGALS We see by the Olympia Transcript that Hon Elwood Evans has been making a rousing Republican speech at a Grant jubilee at that place Good for Hon Elwood and his kind They understand themselves How can we ever sufficiently admire the Copper Johnsonites who, after having done their dirty best to defeat the Republican party for the last three or four years [illegible] after the victory is won [illegible] the honors? There is such a host of true men of this description [illegible] We have our eye [illegible] in Oregon

NATIONAL THANKSGIVING The list of causes [illegible] thanksgiving presented in the [illegible] by the President is a very meagre one Among the causes he mentions [illegible] the [illegible] thing that no one is [illegible] gratitude There [illegible] for thanksgiving in the fact that a better man [illegible] White House than the [illegible]

DEAD [illegible] says the Democratic party has gone back to the grave from whence it was exhumed by President Johnson And the News is very disconsolate over this result

What the People of Oregon Think

There is a Copperhead paper called the New York Express which was once the leading organ of Know Nothingism in the United States Its then and present editor James Brooks was chief of that organization For the last eight years the Express has been one of the vilest dirtiest pro-rebel sheets in the country It recently heard of the defeat of the revolutionary schemes of the Copperheads in the Oregon Legislature and of course is greatly incensed thereat The Oregon Herald under the heading of "What decent people think" copies an article from this Know Nothing Copperhead rebel organ which however when examined turns out to be a rehash of some of Beriah's own articles on the subject In fact the Express credits the Herald with it Now Beriah cannot republish his own stale twaddle from other disreputable papers in this way and palm it off as proof of what decent people think It makes no difference at all what Democratic partisans think of the action of the Republican members of the Oregon Legislature The people of the State in the late election said what they thought about it The day of election the Herald said that this was one of the principal issues If this was true on this issue the Democratic majority in the State was reduced from 1 200 in June to nothing in November Who cares then, what all the Copperhead organs in the country say about the matter when we have this verdict of the people upon it? Who shall say that the Republican members did wrong in resigning when all the Republican counties are carried by increased majorities and when several counties that went Democratic last June now reverse their verdict and instruct their Democratic members to resign?

Public Roads

While the people of Oregon are so greatly absorbed in railroad schemes they should not lose sight of the importance of building and maintaining good common roads Good highways are to farms townships and counties what railroads are to towns, cities and States They are the arteries through which the life giving principle is imparted the means by which communities multiply in population and increase in wealth comfort and refinement Yet they are often neglected as but of secondary importance and those who should contribute most liberally to build and maintain them are usually found advocating the least expenditure and anxious to keep taxation down It is no part of economy to neglect the making of new roads or the repairing of old ones, whenever needed In the management of our roads gross ignorance and stupidity, as well as neglect, are too frequently exhibited There are many Supervisors who do not understand their duties, if the work is to be taken as an index of their knowledge Not unfrequently labor and money are expended in the most useless ways both from a want of intelligence and a proper appreciation of duty and responsibility Road making is an art, requiring great skill and practical experience This is especially true of road making in a soil and climate like ours While everybody in Oregon is talking about railroads, it should be remembered that the building of any number of railroad lines cannot dispense with the use of common highways

MCCLELLAN —An Oakland (Cal) dispatch gives the following relative to the election of George B McClellan as President of the University of California "There were present at the meeting of the Board thirteen Democrats and six Republicans The Republicans and some one of the Democrats voted against McClellan Ex-Gov Low promptly tendered his resignation After the ballot had been taken a motion to make the election unanimous was lost This action will be regarded as one of the greatest calamities that could befall the incipient University, by the wealthy and powerful friends of the cause of liberal learning, who reside in Alameda county If partizanship cannot be kept out of the management of the University a private college will receive ample aid and encouragement"

MORE BREAD AND BUTTER WANTED —One of that purchaseable squad known as Andy Johnson's Bread and Butter Brigade, Elwood Evans by name, has been making a speech in Olympia, claiming to be himself the very pink and perfection of Republicanism and asserting that the Republicans of that Territory should nominate none but 'true blue' for office What insufferable cant and hypocrisy But there's one comfort The 'true blue' qualification lets all such men as the speaker out For our part we would prefer, and we believe all good Union men would prefer Copperheads or even rebels for office to Copper Johnson renegades

CHEAP EDITOR — Old Feeble Mind of the Herald is still drawling and prosing about the "legislative conspiracy" No doubt this will furnish him a theme for months, and perhaps years, to come He appears to be publishing his articles on the subject over and over again This saves expense, and does not detract a particle from the interest of the paper

ON A LEVEL —The Boise Democrat, the central organ of the white man's party of Idaho, exults mightily because the Southern negroes "have voted with their old masters and real friends and against the carpet baggers and scallawags" At last the Democracy and the negroes are on a level "Nigger equality" has come and the Democrats take to it with a wonderful liking

RAILROAD WAR The Olympia Transcript makes a terrific onslaught upon Ben Holladay's railroad schemes That paper is of opinion that they are simply an offshoot of the Union Pacific road, and that their object is to defeat the Northern Pacific Railroad enterprise

WASHINGTON, Saturday Oct 31 1868

CLOSE OF THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

In the State of New York the Republicans held 16 public meetings last Monday, [illegible] on Tuesday, 10 on Wednesday, 40 on Thursday, 18 on Friday and 92 to-day making 286 during the week The Democrats have been equally active, and the campaign closes brilliantly on both sides The Democrats have strained every nerve and have called out their reserve by placing their candidate for President on the stump and parading him before the people as a stump orator hoping thereby to revive their drooping fortunes in the Empire State and save a little plunder from the general wreck and ruin which awaits them next Tuesday Their last and only hope is to save the electoral patronage of the State of New York and to accomplish that they have left no stone unturned They have issued thousands of fraudulent naturalization certificates, and have resorted to every other means known among politicians but, with all their strategy, they are almost certain to be overthrown by the grand Republican army in New York In nearly every other State the canvass has been conducted with the utmost energy by both parties and closes amid a blaze of enthusiasm on the part of the Republicans and fear and trembling among the Democrats On Tuesday the great drama—the most memorable perhaps in the history of American politics—will close by the election of Grant and Colfax President and Vice President of the United States and the complete overthrow of the rebel Democracy by the vote of nearly every State in the Union

PROGRESS OF THE NEW DEMOCRATIC REBELLION

The Democratic rebellion is still progressing in the South and will continue in full force until after the news of the election of Grant and Colfax next Tuesday, reaches the various Seymour and Blair Ku Klux Klans, when it will dwindle down to some extent and take the form of secret individual assassinations instead of bold, wholesale murders as at present To the hundreds of Union men who have been murdered all over the South, recently, a number of prominent names have been added during the past few days On the 22d inst Hon James Hinds, member of Congress from Arkansas was murdered in cold blood near Little Rock, by George A Clark Secretary of the Democratic Committee of Monroe county Joseph R Brooks, another prominent Union man was shot and badly wounded by the same Democrat Just before leaving home Mr Hinds wrote a letter to the Secretary of the Republican Congressional Committee in this city in which he said "We have commenced a vigorous canvass and you can say to all our friends that the State of Arkansas shall go for Grant and Colfax We are terribly in earnest, having left but three alternatives, to carry the State [illegible] die We are determined to carry it Colonel Brooks and myself take a trip through the south and east of the State in a few days, and will not cease work until the day of election"

Before the day of election he was murdered by that same Democratic party which has cost the Nation hundreds of thousands of lives and billions of treasure since 1860, and which has taken the lives of hundreds of good men in the South within the past three months Last Monday a procession of Democrats in St Bernard Parish near New Orleans, killed two colored men Since then the Seymour and Blair Knights have taken possession of New Orleans and the Military authorities have been compelled to take charge of the city and proclaim martial law

On the 24th, the Democracy of Arkansas killed Capt Willis of the Freedmen's Bureau and Capt Peter Andrews, U S A wounded Sheriff Stumble and killed a negro The party were traveling and were attacked by Ku Klux in ambush

CONDUCT OF MINISTER JOHNSON

The conduct of our new Minister to England excites a good deal of comment and is very generally censured by the loyal press Reverdy Johnson has behaved ever since he landed in England like a snob and a toady He commenced by feasting with the British aristocracy and now he caps the climax by drinking wine with Laird and other British allies of the rebels who supplied the Confederacy with ships to destroy our commerce Mr Johnson seems to have gone over completely to the English aristocracy who did all in their power to destroy our Government during the late war, and, not satisfied with that he goes a step beyond and at a banquet in Liverpool receives in a public and [illegible] manner the very men who built and fitted out the Alabama, and were the partners and associates of the pirate Semmes

THE OVERLAND MAIL—PACIFIC RAILROAD

The Post Office Department has closed the contract, which I mentioned last week for the transportation of the overland mails with Wells Fargo & Co at the rate of $1 750 000 per annum for 959 miles with an agreement that the price shall be reduced at a pro rata as the distance is reduced by the building of the Pacific railroad If the railroad is completed in July next, this contract will cost the Government about $750 000 The Union Pacific Railroad Company have completed 850 miles of their road west of Omaha Three days ago they laid nearly [illegible] miles of track and passed the advance stakes of the Central Pacific line

TREATIES

Since the formation of the Government 205 treaties and conventions have been concluded Twelve of these were made before Washington's Administration, and during his two terms four John Adams' term, three Jefferson's six Madison's five, Monroe's, seven J Q Adams twelve Jackson's, sixteen, Van Buren's, nine Harrison's one Tyler's, nine Polk's fourteen Taylor's five Fillmore's, nine Pierce's nineteen Buchanan's eighteen Lincoln's, twenty six Johnson's, twenty three Thus it will be seen that Secretary Seward has negotiated about one fourth of all the treaties since the government was founded

REBEL PROPERTY CONFISCATED

A case is now being tried in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, involving the validity and constitutionality of the confiscation laws A man named Tyler went South during the war and his property was confiscated and sold to Mr Defrees, the Public Printer On returning, after the war, Tyler sued to recover the property The case was tried in the court below and judgment given for defendant, and it now comes up before a full bench on exceptions The case creates a good deal of interest, a large number of people in Washington being interested in the issue

COIN IN THE TREASURY

About $21,700 000 is being taken from the Treasury to pay the semi annual interest on the 5 20 bonds which fall due on the 1st of November About $100,000,000 in coin is now held by the Government so that a little over $78 000 000 will remain after the interest is paid An additional sum of $28 000 000 will be required to pay the interest on bonds falling due the first of January next It is estimated that this is about the amount which will be derived from customs during November and December, leaving about $76 000 000 in coin in the Treasury on the 1st of January 1869

REVENUE MATTERS

During the week among the revenue appointments the following have been made for California For the First District, W C Johnson storekeeper Second District Samuel Drenner guager No compromise has yet been affected between the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and Secretary McCulloch in regard to the appointment of Revenue Supervisors Five have been appointed and twenty appointments are awaiting confirmation by the Secretary of the Treasury

BY STATE TELEGRAPH

SALEM Nov 18 The official vote of Umatilla county is received Seymour, 757 Grant 513 Seymour's majority 244

THE NORWAY OAT —There has been considerable interest felt the past season in this new variety of oat The most extravagant merits have been claimed for it over all others It is said that—

First—They will produce three times as many bushels to the acre on the same soil, and with the same culture as that of any other known variety

Second They possess more nutriment and are consequently more profitable to feed

Third—Animals eat them better and with greater relish than other oats

Fourth—they are not as liable to lodge as other oats

Fifth—They do not require as much seed; one bushel being ample for an acre

Sixth—They are more hardy and less affected by severe weather and will not rust

Seventh—The straw is more valuable for feed on account of its abundant foliage

Eighth—Its adaptation to the soil and climate of this country as shown by the fact that [illegible] four years since the discovery it has gradually improved

Houston Texas, thinks that ten years hence she will be the grandest railroad centre in the South.

SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS.

TO THE CITIZENS OF OREGON

I BEG LEAVE TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE citizens of Oregon to my celebrated AROMATIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS as a medicinal beverage. Dietetic [illegible] qualities manufactured by myself exclusively at my factory at Schiedam in Holland.

In Gravel, Gout and Rheumatism in Obstructions of the Bladder and Kidneys its efforts are prompt, decided and invariably reliable.

It is now some twenty years since the Proprietor first introduced it to the American public and during that time he has received over 3,000 letters from physicians [illegible] it as the purest liquor they have ever used in their practice.

It is made from barley of the finest quality selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic juniper berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced on the stomach [illegible] by a change of water—a situation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated persons are peculiarly liable—the

SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS

Will be found absolutely infallible, while in cases of [illegible] gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, stricture, dyspepsia and general debility it is recommended to attention by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork and a fac simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

Are you WEAK, DEBILITATED, NERVOUS? Is your sleep disturbed? Do you have palpitation of the heart or an inclination to melancholy? Diseases of such nature require a prompt DIURETIC which will be found in Sec 9. Rich without Money.—Many a man is rich without money. Thousands of men with nothing in their pocket and thousands without [illegible], are rich. A man born with a good constitution, a good stomach a good heart and good limbs, and a pretty good head piece are rich. Good bones are better than gold, tough muscles than silver and nerves that flash fire and carry energy to every function are better than houses and land. It is better than landed estates to have had the right kind of father and mother. Good breeds and bad breeds exist among men as really as among herds and horses. Education may do much to check evil tendencies, or to develop good ones but it is a great thing to inherit the right proportion of faculties to start with. That man is rich who has a fine [illegible] in his composition. The hardest thing [illegible] in this life is a man's [illegible] a selfish fellow, a desponding [illegible] care burdened man. These are all born deformed on the inside. Their feet may not limp, but their thoughts do [illegible] the brink of the grave would gladly part with every dollar to obtain a longer lease of life.

[illegible]

[illegible] received 213 electoral votes and it is now pretty certain that [illegible] will receive 209—the vote [illegible] States. This estimate will leave [illegible] votes for Seymour.

The Democratic editors of New York are a hard set. Their names are Wood, Marble, Stone and Brick.

Mr Zachariah Wilson Portland Oregon writes

It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself during the stormy ordeal of public experiments. Murray's Improved Magic Oil has stood the test of time and has not been found wanting. The astonishing efficacy that I experienced [illegible] during my [illegible] Rheumatism and Lumbago [illegible] standing entitles Dr. Murray's Premium Lung and Liver Balsam and Improved Magic Oil to a high rank in the list of remedies for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Earache, Distressing ailments etc.

John English of Howell Prairie Marion county Oregon writes:

I was taken with a severe attack of Rheumatism in my knee joints and [illegible] accompanied [illegible] so that I had to use [illegible] meanwhile trying all remedies [illegible]. Your Magic Oil and Balsam gave me instant relief and I was able to walk in four days without crutches. I have not felt any rheumatism since. I have seen your family medicines used with excellent success. I have no hesitancy in saying it is the best preparation for family use ever tried [illegible] complaints. I am now on my way to South America after residing in Oregon twenty years. I must now have two dozens Balsam and two dozens of your Magic Oil dollar bottles as I am sure they are the best remedies in Oregon and I would not be without them in my house, and when this package of medicine is exhausted I will send to your office in Portland for a fresh supply.

CHANGE OF NAME!

MERCADO & CO., SUCCESSORS TO Mercado & Scully, have been obliged for the [illegible] protection of the public to change the name of their celebrated Bitters to

MERCADO'S

Native California Wine

BITTERS

We subjoin the following affidavit [illegible] injunction suit formerly pending between Mercado & Scully, plaintiffs, and G. A. Simon, defendant:

I, Sainsevain, being duly sworn, say: That the article known as Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters was manufactured by Mercado & Scully [illegible] month of March 1861 [illegible] said Sainsevain Brothers having any connection [illegible] manufacture [illegible]. The deponent has always known [illegible] Mercado & Scully as the Sole Proprietors of the Sainsevain California Wine Bitters.

Notwithstanding the above affidavit the said P. Sainsevain is putting up a cheap [illegible] under the name of Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters, representing it to be the same as our celebrated Bitters which we have been manufacturing and selling in immense quantities since 1860, and also affixing a nearly similar label to that used on our genuine Wine Bitters. BE NOT DECEIVED. Send for

NATIVE CALIFORNIA WINE BITTERS,

And you will obtain the same popular beverage so favorably known since 1860. Beware of Counterfeits! For hereafter the Wine Bitters are requested [illegible] that the words MERCADO & SCULLY SAN FRANCISCO are engraved on the Government stamp pasted over the cork. Equal [illegible] This is the only effectual security against the counterfeit imitation.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female, are there who are dragging out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. Until a horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be thereof careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless [illegible] medical measures viz. Sallowness, orange dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves, [illegible] uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, [illegible] vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, [illegible] final as pimples and [illegible] furred tongue, fetid breath, [illegible] night sweats, monomania [illegible] insanity. If relief be not obtained [illegible] a person or [illegible] and have a cure by his new and scientific mode of treating [illegible] effecting a quick and [illegible] One Hundred Dollars to any person who will [illegible] satisfactorily to him that he was [illegible] complaint by either of the San Francisco [illegible]

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage [illegible] are suffering under any of these [illegible] would not forget the sacred responsibility [illegible] obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON'S [illegible] patient a written [illegible] to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may BE CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and directions for use, for Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupation in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive [illegible] exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he [illegible]

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are now dragging out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances a disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue fetid breath [illegible] night sweats monomania and frequently insanity If relief be not obtained at once [illegible] either in person or by letter and have a speedy and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr [illegible] will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was ever [illegible] complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these [illegible] should not forget the sacred responsibility [illegible] them [illegible] obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON [illegible] will give to each patient a written agreement binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and directions for use for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers etc Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863 The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates pretended patients letters etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure
